Command Missions

A Personal Story
by
Lt. General
L. K. Truscott, jr.

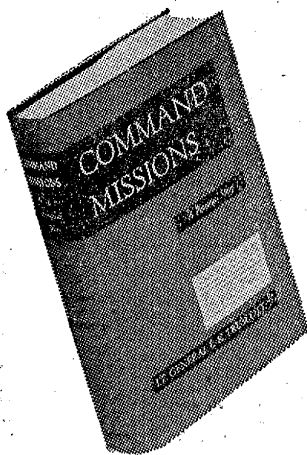

NEW YORK TIMES

MAR 9 1954

STATINTL

Hanson Baldwin says in the N. Y. Times Book Review,
"The most outspoken book yet written by a high-ranking World War II commander . . . General Truscott is one of the few high-ranking World War II commanders who has had the moral courage and honesty to include personalities in his memoirs of combat . . . simultaneously a study in leadership, a case book of strategy and tactics and a solid slice of history, written from the records by a man who was there."

Says Gordon Craig in the N. Y. Herald Tribune Book Review,
"His account of the fighting in Italy, in particular, is one of the best descriptions we possess of what has been called 'the forgotten war.' The outstanding characteristic of this book, however, is its fair-mindedness
. . . easy to follow and exciting to read."

Don't miss this war biography of the savior of Anzio beachhead.
